Tools for Meeting Planners

ASHLEY NORWOOD INTRODUCTION

Our speaker today is Ashley Norwood. Ashley has been presenting to brokers, registered investment advisors and the public for over 16 years. As a speaker for Fidelity Investments for the past eight years - her knowledge of how a world-class organization constructs, executes and analyzes business plans led to the development of her presentation today - “Taking Care of Personal Business”.

With “Taking Care of Personal Business,” Ashley will show us how we can take traditional business planning techniques we've learned in the office - and apply them to our personal lives to create positive change. That positive change can be anything from achieving a personal goal to changing a negative habit.

We've invited Ashley to join us today because [company name] is committed to your development - not just your professional development - but your personal development as well. We want to give you the tools you need to become happier and healthier employees and people. So with that goal in mind - please help me welcome Ashley Norwood!
